Instructor

Lauren Degabriele

is a passionate Martial Artist and Self Defence expert of over 20 years.

After working 15 years in a volatile and particularly violent field, Lauren's passion for "real world" self-defence grew.

With a focus on awareness and personal safety, Lauren will equip you with more "tools for your toolbox" to be able to prevent or deal with ANY potential situations that may arise along with current legalities involved. Unlike other tired old "self defence" classes with set "attack, lock and flipping drills" you may have attended before, her system is proven to work no matter what your experience, age, size, strength or fitness levels.

Come along, practice and listen to Lauren's "real world" philosophy, knowledge and practical defence techniques. If you are lucky, she will share stories about how she has helped protect others and saved her own life countless times.
